DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 6 recites the limitation "the cooled first part of the third liquid" in lines 2-3 of step (c) of claim 6. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 6 recites the limitation "the fourth vapor and fourth liquid" in lines 4-5 of step (c) of claim 6. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 6 recites the limitation "the separation means" in line 4 of step (c) of claim 6. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

Art Unit: 1764

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Foglietta et al. (6,712,880).

Foglietta disclose a system comprising a first separation means to receive a feed gas to produce a 1st vapor stream and a 1st liquid stream. A fractionation column means is connected to receive a part of the 1st liquid stream to produce a 2nd vapor stream and a 2nd liquid stream. A second separation means is connected to receive at least part of the 1st vapor stream and the cooled 1st liquid stream. A third vapor produced from the second separation means is further connected to supply via heat exchange and the third liquid produced from the second separation means is charged into the fractionation column means.

The system of Foglietta does not disclose a separation means to produce a third vapor stream a third liquid stream.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the process of Foglietta by including a separation means as claimed to further separate the combined stream into more desirable products.

Election/Restrictions

The argument that the two groups constitute a single invention and the search for the two groups would be coextensive is not persuasive because the apparatus of Group II can be used for different processes such as a process wherein the feedstock is a liquid hydrocarbon. The search required for Group II is required the search for Group I.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.
